Role summary

The University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership (CISL) has been at the forefront of defining and catalysing the leadership needed for a sustainable economy for nearly 30 years. Nearly 8,000 executives and practitioners have participated in our educational programmes that seek to empower and develop leaders who will drive change to create the future we want. Our global alumni network is itself a powerful vehicle for change, which provides a virtuous circle of learning as alumni return to participate in research, teaching and case studies. Through this interaction, the Institute is able to continually learn from the cutting edge of practice as it emerges, which we then integrate into our teaching.

CISL is an Institute within the University of Cambridge. We work both with individual companies and by convening groups of leading companies and policymakers, on issues such as sustainable urbanisation, inclusive development, business innovation, sustainable production and consumption, and climate change policy. Our model of working gives us a deep understanding of the strategic issues faced by companies and leaders as they attempt to align their strategy and action with the future we want.

The Institute’s graduate programme team works with individual practitioners and leaders from some of the world’s most influential organisations, building their capacity to bring about positive change for sustainability within and beyond their organisations. Through sustainability-focused graduate-level programmes, we draw upon the latest evidence and cross-disciplinary thinking and approaches to inform, inspire, challenge and empower our students to take effective action. The team currently delivers six Cambridge-accredited, part-time, postgraduate level courses, supporting over 200 senior participants per year, many of whom hold influential roles in leading organisations internationally.

The role of the Programme Manager involves the design, leadership and evaluation of these programmes, involving the Institute’s Fellows and Associates – and wider network of subject experts - as faculty, tutors, facilitators and guest contributors. The role also contributes to ongoing team development and innovation, through research, analysis and the development of proposals and initiatives, for example for potential new programmes, expansion into new markets, new areas of curriculum development and new learning methodologies.
Key responsibilities

This section details, but is not an exhaustive list, of the specific activities or obligations for which we require and hold the role accountable.

Managing programme development, delivery and evaluation

- Manages the development, delivery and evaluation of courses to high quality standards, meeting market needs on time and within budget.
- Manages the ongoing development of programme content and structure. Identifies potential contributors and manages the process of inviting contributors to an event. This includes continuous review of programme content and structure to ensure that a programme, once designed, remains relevant and appropriate in its delivery.
- Creates for approval and monitors budgets for programmes within their portfolio as part of the development/and or delivery process. Accounts to project directors for variances, and draws to the attention of others where their action may have a significant effect on the financial position of a programme.
- Manages the CISL project team responsible for marketing and delivering each programme within their portfolio.
- Manages relationships including contracts, briefings and ongoing liaison, with programme delivery partners.
- Manages the production of programme documentation.

Business, product and market development

- Contributes to the development of new graduate programmes, including working to scope the potential market, curriculum and delivery model, producing strategy papers to inform decision-making, and supporting the design and development of new programmes.
- May be responsible for the development of a new programme/project where the programme/project is an adaptation of an existing model or a sub-element of an existing programme.
- Occasionally takes responsibility for contributing to the development of a strategy for a new product or market. Takes responsibility for implementing agreed strategies and managing selected client and delivery partner relationships.
- Develops and/or maintains an understanding of relevant market sectors and subject areas to ensure CISL’s existing programmes remain current.
- Designs and conducts, in consultation with the Directors, product and process research and development in appropriate areas.
- May support the preparation of bids and proposals to secure new business and research funding.
Marketing and corporate relations

- Contributes to the development and implementation of the team’s marketing and corporate relations strategy.
- Commissions, reviews and approves (with reference to Programme Director, as appropriate) marketing and communications strategies for own programmes, monitors progress and ensures delivery.
- Occasionally undertakes direct responsibility for specific client relationships, where a relationship requires more senior handling, and greater depth of understanding of CISL’s programmes than marketing team members are able to provide.
- Represents CISL where appropriate, through participation in external events and meetings to raise the profile of CISL and its products and services.
- Initiates and develops external contacts to support CISL’s strategic objectives.
- Initiates and develops contacts within the University to support CISL’s strategic objectives.

Processes, procedures and systems

- Contributes towards the development and effective deployment of the team’s financial management and reporting systems as required.
- Contributes to the staffing strategy for relevant project teams within CISL.
- Undertakes responsibility for developing specific CISL-wide strategies and systems, e.g. project evaluation system, faculty management systems, processes to ensure consistency of curriculum across relevant programmes.
- Ensures compliance with established financial management systems within own areas of operation.
- Delivers an agreed area on the business plan, accountable to Programme Directors.
- Accountable to Project Directors for variations in financial and management information reports (budgets v actual).
- Complies with national, University and CISL GDPR Policies, Health & Safety Regulations and Policy, and University and CISL Environmental Regulations and Policy.

General Information

The University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership

The University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership (CISL) is a globally influential Institute developing leadership and solutions for a sustainable economy.

Through leadership and collaboration between business, government and finance institutions, we believe the economy can be ‘rewired’ to deliver positive outcomes for people and the environment.

We support this by:

- Building the leadership capacity of individuals
- Developing the capability of organisations
- Facilitating collaboration and dialogue across conventional boundaries
- Catalysing innovation and solutions
- Building the evidence base for action

Each year we work with business, government and finance leaders in over 250 organisations and more than 1,200 individuals complete one of our graduate or executive programmes.

We have a leadership network of over 8,000 senior leaders and practitioners from business, government and civil society who have an impact in every sector and on every continent. Their experience and insights shape our work, which is underpinned by multidisciplinary academic research.

Our activities span the breadth of sustainable development, with particular focus on six key areas critical to the transition to a sustainable economy:

1. Sustainable finance – How can we create a finance system that rewards long-term thinking?
2. Economic innovation – How will industries, jobs and markets evolve, and how should public policy and business ensure economic development is inclusive and sustainable?
3. Inclusive development – How can companies become agents of improved health and livelihoods, whilst providing more equitable access to income and opportunity?
4. Natural capital – How can companies sustain the natural world and its resources through their strategies and operating practices?
5. Future cities – How can cities develop vibrant communities of healthy people, supported by clean, green energy, food, water and transportation systems?
6. Leadership - How can individual and organisational leaders shape the economy to deliver positive sustainability outcomes, whilst ensuring successful and resilient organisations?

We operate across UK and Europe, sub-Saharan Africa, Latin America, Asia and the Middle East – with offices in Cambridge, Brussels and Cape Town, and delivery partners in Beijing and Melbourne.

HRH The Prince of Wales is our Royal Founding Patron and has inspired and supported many of our initiatives.

The University of Cambridge

The University is one of the world’s leading academic centres. It comprises 150 faculties and departments, together with a central administration and other institutions. Our institutions, museums and collections are an excellent resource for researchers, students and members of the public representing one of the country’s highest concentrations of internationally important collections.

The University has an annual income of £1.66 billion. Research income, won competitively from the UK Research Councils, the European Union (EU), major charities and industry, exceeds £400 million per annum and continues to grow. The Colleges and the University remain committed to admitting the best students regardless of their background and to investing considerable resources in both widening access and financial support.

The 31 Colleges are self-governing, separate legal entities that appoint their own staff. Many academic staff are invited to join a College as a Teaching Fellow, which provides a further social and intellectual dimension. The Colleges admit students, provide student accommodation and deliver small group teaching. The University awards degrees and its faculties and departments provide lectures and seminars for students and determine the syllabi for teaching and conducting research.

The University’s estate is undergoing the most significant transformation in its history. Cambridge has been able to create a new science and technology campus to the west of the city centre, and is now expanding further to the north west of Cambridge including investing in affordable homes for University key workers and community facilities. Even with our continued development, the University remains within walking or cycling distance across the campus. The University is a major partner on the Cambridge Biomedical Campus and we continue to redevelop our historic city centre sites demonstrating our determination to ensure that we can offer the best facilities and opportunities for our staff and students.

Our instinct for seeking out excellence and setting up enduring and mutually beneficial collaborations has led us to establish strategic partnerships across the globe. Whether it is the successful Cambridge-Africa Programme involving universities in Ghana, Uganda and elsewhere on the African continent; or the close association with the government of India to pursue new research in crop science; or the creation, with Germany’s Max Planck Institutes, of a Cambridge-based centre for the study of ethics, human economy and social change – international partnerships are now an inextricable part of the University’s make-up.

There is much more information about the University at http://www.cam.ac.uk/univ/works/index.html that we hope you will find helpful.

What the University can offer you

We offer a comprehensive reward package to attract, motivate and retain high performing staff at all levels and in all areas of work. The University offers a wide range of competitive benefits, from family leave entitlement, to shopping and travel discount schemes. Our generous annual leave package contributes to the positive wellbeing of our University employees. Sabbatical leave enables academics to focus on research and scholarship, whilst still maintaining their full salary. The University also has a career break scheme for academic and academic-related staff, with additional flexible working policies for all other staff.

CAMbens employee benefits

We offer a CAMbens scheme for University employees, providing access to online and in-store shopping discounts and cashback. With more than 2,000 participating retailers, employees can save money on a wide range of household expenses, from groceries and clothes, to holidays and insurance and much more. A range of local discounts are also available, helping employees to save money whilst also supporting local Cambridge businesses. CAMbens Cars and CAMbens Cycle to Work salary sacrifice schemes are also available, which enable employees to save money on transport costs. A 10% discount rate on the purchase of train season tickets, bulk buy tickets and an interest free travel to work loan are also available for staff of the University of Cambridge.

Family-friendly policies

The University recognises the importance of supporting its staff. We have a range of family-friendly policies to aid employees’ work-life balance including a generous maternity, adoption and shared parental leave entitlement of 18 weeks full pay and emergency family care support via My Family Care. In addition, our Ofsted rated ‘outstanding’ workplace nurseries, childcare vouchers, a childcare salary sacrifice scheme and a high quality holiday play scheme are available to help support University employees with caring responsibilities. The Newcomers and Visiting Scholars Group is an organisation within the University run by volunteers whose aim is to help newly arrived wives, husbands, partners and families of Visiting Scholars and members of the University to settle in Cambridge and give them an opportunity to meet local people.

Your wellbeing

The University’s Sport Centre, Counselling Services and Occupational Health are just some of the support services available to University employees to promote their physical and mental wellbeing. There are many societies in Cambridge catering for almost every taste and interest. Whether you want to take part in a sport, participate in music or drama, pursue a hobby, or join a political group, you will almost certainly find that a society exists for this purpose.

The University also hosts the Cambridge Science Festival and Cambridge Festival of Ideas, as well as Open Cambridge weekend, which together attract over 50,000 visitors per year. The festivals are a great opportunity to get your first taste of public engagement, through volunteering, supporting hands-on activities or proposing a talk.

Pay and benefits

The University salary structure includes automatic service-related pay progression in many of its grades and an annual cost of living increase. In addition to this, employees are rewarded for outstanding contribution through a number of regular pay progression schemes. The University offers attractive pensions schemes for employees, with an additional benefit of a salary exchange arrangement providing tax and national insurance savings. Payroll giving is also a simple, tax-efficient way for employees to donate to charity.

Relocating to Cambridge

The University Accommodation Service exists to help employees in their search for a rental home in Cambridge. A new University development at North West Cambridge called Eddington offers subsidised rented accommodation to University staff. The development consists of high quality furnished one and two bedroom apartments. For more information about the development and how to apply please visit the website https://www.hr.admin.cam.ac.uk/hr-staff/information-new-starters/accommodation-service

Equality & diversity

The University has a vibrant and varied community. We support and encourage under-represented groups and we value diversity. We welcome applications from individuals with disabilities. Our recruitment and selection procedures follow best practice. We have an Equal Opportunities Policy, along with a range of diversity networks for women, black and minority ethnic and lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender staff. More details are available here: http://www.equality.admin.cam.ac.uk/

Development opportunities
CISL Further Information, Programme Manager, Graduate Programmes
We support new employees to settle in through various activities. The encouragement of career development for all staff is one of the University’s values and we put this into practice through various services and initiatives. Our Personal and Professional Development Department provides development opportunities and courses for all University employees. These include face-to-face sessions, online learning modules and webinars. Employees may also apply for financial support to undertake training that will lead to a qualification. We offer reduced staff fees for University of Cambridge graduate courses and the opportunity to attend lectures and seminars held by University departments and institutions. The CareerStart@Cam programme also supports employees in assistant staff roles who do not hold higher education qualifications to develop their skills, experience and qualifications.

Equality of Opportunity at the University

We are committed to a proactive approach to equality, which includes supporting and encouraging all under-represented groups, promoting an inclusive culture and valuing diversity. We make selection decisions based on personal merit and an objective assessment against the criteria required for the post. We do not treat job applicants or members of staff less favourably than one another on the grounds of sex (including gender reassignment), marital or parental status, race, ethnic or national origin, colour, disability (including HIV status), sexual orientation, religion, age or socio-economic factors.

We have various diversity networks to help us progress equality; these include the Women’s Staff Network, the Disabled Staff Network, the Black and Minority Ethnic Staff Network and the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Staff Network. In addition, we ranked in the top 100 employers for lesbian, gay and bisexual (LGB) staff in Stonewall’s Workplace Equality Index 2013 and we hold an Athena SWAN silver award at organisation level for promoting women in Science, Technology, Engineering and Medicine.

We are supportive of staff with caring responsibilities, such as through our flexible working, career break and returning carer’s schemes. We encourage individuals to include details of any breaks in employment due to caring responsibilities in applications for employment so that these can be taken into consideration in assessments made, where appropriate.

Information if you have a Disability

The University welcomes applications from individuals with disabilities and we are committed to ensuring fair treatment throughout the recruitment process. We will make adjustments to enable applicants to compete to the best of their ability wherever it is reasonable to do so, and, if successful, to assist them during their employment. Information for disabled applicants is available at http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/hr/staff/disabled/.

We encourage you to declare any disability that you may have, and any reasonable adjustments that you may require, in the section provided for this purpose in the application form. This will enable us to accommodate your needs throughout the process as required. However, applicants and employees may declare a disability at any time.

If you prefer to discuss any special arrangements connected with a disability, please contact the CISL Human Resources team, who are responsible for recruitment to this position, on +44 12237 68814 or by email human.resources@cisl.cam.ac.uk.
