The scholarship will be awarded to the successful applicant once they have applied have received an offer of admission to the IDBE Master's following the competitive selection process and fulfil any admission conditions set by the University.

Application process

Applicants are required to demonstrate their interest in, and commitment to, sustainability in the built environment. As such, the research proposal, submitted as part of the Master of Studies application, will be used a key criterion to award the bursary in the competitive selection process.

In addition, applicants are required to write a scholarship application statement of no more than 500 words which comments on:

- Why the candidate would like to be considered for the scholarship
- How the candidate believes that attending the course will be of benefit to them and relevant to their career aspirations
- How the candidate hopes to use learning from the programme to benefit the wider profession (candidate may make reference to research proposal if appropriate)

The Worshipful Company may wish to ask the recipient to present their findings or share the results of their research.

Applications will be accepted until 16 May 2022.
