

Sustainability Leadership for the Built Environment

Access Bursary

Overview

The Sustainability Leadership for the Built Environment programme explores the importance of building knowledge and leadership skills to drive real change through multiple professions and disciplines working together. We strive to enable qualified applicants to study on the Postgraduate Certificate or Master's programme and encourage all applicants with financial needs to consider applying for a bursary.

By providing a partial bursary to students, CISL hope to provide the support required which may otherwise prevent a student from taking such an opportunity to develop real leadership confidence and skills in responding effectively to the economic, social and environmental challenges facing the world and lead others to achieve positive change.

This has been made available in part through the generosity of alumni and teaching colleagues who wish to support sustainability leaders of the future otherwise unable to fund their studies.

Bursary value

Bursaries awarded may be up to 50% of the programme fee. The amount awarded will be paid directly into the recipient's fee account (administered by CISL) in one instalment at the start of the course and is not transferable. Recipients must be able to pay any remaining fees, meet the accommodation, food and travel costs associated with attending the residential weeks, and cover any others costs that may be incurred to fulfil the course requirements, e.g. undertaking research.

Application deadline

The deadline for both funding and programme applications is 28 April 2027.

Eligibility criteria

We recognise the importance of diversity of perspective and experience within our cohorts and seek to optimise the diversity of cohorts to the benefit of all our students. In particular we welcome applicants who have experienced social, economic or educational disadvantage, with an express objective of ensuring that the bursary is used to enable applications from disadvantaged backgrounds to access the opportunity of study with us. We will particularly consider:

- UK citizen from ethnic minorities
- Citizens of a country in the DAC list of ODA recipients
- Candidates who are under-represented at Cambridge including but not limited to; refugees or asylum seekers, carers, care-leavers, individuals with a disability
- Candidates who can demonstrate a case for financial need, including applicants from low-income backgrounds, low-income countries or without access to company or other sources of funding.

Applications are welcome from any candidate, irrespective of gender, nationality, or geographical location. There are no restrictions on citizenship, country of residence or fee status.

This bursary is only available to candidates who apply for admission to the above-named programmes via the standard application process, receive an offer of admission following the competitive selection process and fulfil any admission conditions set by the University of Cambridge.

Application and selection process

Once a programme application has been submitted, candidates must also complete the bursary application form where they will be asked to outline:

- financial barriers to accessing the programme
- any other funding opportunities you have investigated, including employer support
- supporting factors relating to under-representation, social, economic or educational disadvantage
- how your life experiences or background could contribute to diversity of perspective
- what impact you anticipate in your professional / personal life from the programme and how you hope to implement your learning from the programme.

Please note that when completing the form applicants should not resend any documentation submitted as part of their application for admission. The documents provided for the bursary will not be considered as part of the process to determine whether an offer of admission will be made. Only bursary applications from candidates who may potentially receive offers of admission will be processed fully. Further information and/or supporting evidence may be requested.

There will be no obligation to award a bursary if no eligible candidates are selected.

Candidates who receive admission offers, but do not receive written confirmation of the award of a bursary, are still eligible to join the course, but would need to provide confirmation of adequate financial support from other sources to cover the full fees and costs.

Timeline

Although admission decisions are made on a rolling basis, bursary applications will only be reviewed once all offers have been made. We aim to review bursary application forms in June and to notify candidates of a decision as soon as possible. Confirmation of the award of a bursary is subject to the admission offer being confirmed, with all conditions met, including confirmation of adequate financial support from other sources to cover any remaining portion of the fees and other costs.

Expected commitments from recipients

Scholarship recipients will be required to:

- Provide a short testimonial about their learning experience, and/or
- Contribute a blog reflecting on their sustainability leadership journey with CISL.

Termination of an individual bursary

A bursary may be terminated if an individual is found to be in violation of the Statutes or Regulations of the University, or of the terms of the offer letters issued, or is convicted of any offence against the laws of England and Wales or is unable to continue their studies at the University for any reason whatsoever, including having made unsatisfactory progress as determined by the University.
