The Møller Centre

The Møller Centre is situated within the beautiful grounds of Churchill College and was formally opened in 1992 by Her Majesty, Queen Ingrid of Denmark. The Centre was built with a generous donation by the A.P. Møller & Chastine Mc-Kinney Møller Foundation, with a vision to bring together academia and industry. Mr Møller believed that, with access to the full educational and research resources of the University of Cambridge, the Centre would be able to offer the highest standard of executive education to leaders and aspiring leaders. In keeping with the Maersk shipping connection, The Møller Centre is built in the shape of a ship.

All bedrooms at The Møller Centre are of authentic contemporary Danish design and are furnished with iconic Hans J. Wegner furniture. All bedrooms are double, en suite. The majority of rooms overlook the grounds of Churchill College. Cambridge city centre, with its stunning architecture and unique history, is only a short walk away. All bedrooms come with tea/coffee-making facilities, mini bar with fresh milk, iron, hairdryer, laptop safe and flat-screen digital TV. Bedrooms also have international plug adapters, quality linen, dressing gowns and complimentary toiletries provided. Complimentary wireless broadband (30Mb download speed) is available throughout and there are extra-large work areas for laptops and documents in each bedroom.

Additional facilities

Guests of The Møller Centre have access to a range of leisure opportunities. These include tennis, croquet, use of the Centre's bicycles and access to the on-site private gym with both strength and cardio equipment.

Accessibility

Wheelchair access is available throughout. A hearing induction loop and sonic alert pillows are available on request.

Free on-site parking is available.
